Walking the Floor.

When a business man gets to the point where he cannot sleep at night, where he is so shattered of nerve that it is torture to even remain in his bed, and he has to get up and pace the floor—it is time for that man to bring himself up with a round turn. If he does not, it means nervous prostration and mental, if not physical, death.

For a man who gets into this condition there is a remedy that will brace him up, put him on his feet and make a man of him again. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It goes to the bottom of things. It searches out the first cause. When a man is in this condition you can put your finger on one of two spots and hit that first cause—the stomach or the liver or both. This great medicine acts directly on these spots. It promptly transforms a weak stomach into a healthy one. It facilitates the flow of digestive juices and makes digestion and assimilation perfect. It gives a man an appetite like a boy's. It invigorates the liver. It fills the blood with the life-giving elements of the food and makes it pure, rich, red and plentiful. The blood is the life current, and when it is filled with the elements that build new and healthy tissues, it does not take long to make a man of him. It builds firm, muscular flesh tissues and strong and steady nerve fibers. It puts new life, vigor and vitality into every atom and organ of the body. It cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. Nothing "just as good" can be found at medicine stores.

I had suffered about eleven years with a pain in the back of my head and back," writes Mr. Robert Hubbard, of Varner, Lincoln Co., Ark. "I suffered for eleven years and spent a great deal of money for doctors and medicine, but did not get relief. Then I used four bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and improved greatly. I can't get five more and now am glad to tell everyone that I am in good health."

"SHOVING THE QUEER."

The Graceful Way in Which Counterfeiters Pass Their Product.

"Counterfeit money 'shovers' form a distinct class of criminals," said an old federal officer. "They have nothing to do with making the 'queer,' but simply put it in circulation. They go about their work very systematically and reduce the chances of detection to a minimum."

"A woman shover, for example, starts out to unload on the big retail stores. Her dress is quiet, but elegant, and she has the surface appearance of a refined lady. In her hand is a pocket-book containing one bad bill and a number of good ones. She goes into a store, makes some trifling purchases, tenders the counterfeit and pockets the change. As she passes out she brushes against a boy, who slips her another queer bill and then drops back a few paces in the crowd."

"In that way she makes the rounds, and if she understands her business she can get rid of an astonishing number of counterfeits in the course of a few hours. If the bill she offers is detected on the spot, she never attempts any argument. 'Dear me!' she exclaims. 'I wonder if I have any more of the horrid things!' And thereupon she empties her pocketbook on the counter and asks the clerk to examine the money and see whether it is all right."

"In 99 cases out of 100 that disarms suspicion at once. If she happens to be arrested, only one bill is found in her possession, and there is nothing to disprove her assertion that she received it somewhere in change. Meanwhile the boy who carries the roll quietly disappears. Often he sells newspapers as a blind. 'Have a paper, miss?' he will cry and hands the shover a bill under the folded sheet. Altogether it is a highly skilled trade. The upper class shovers are very seldom caught."
—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Burglary With Sponge and Water.

When a burglar wants to break into a Peruvian house, he takes a sponge and a bucket of water and moistens the walls, which are covered with only a thin coating of mud and easily dissolve upon the application of moisture. Then when the mud is removed he takes a sharp knife and cuts the strips of split bamboo, which serve as a substitute for laths. That easy little operation produces a hole in the wall large enough for a man to crawl through and can be performed so silently that people sleeping in the house will not be awakened. Not long ago the residence of the cable manager at Barranca was entered in this way. The thieves frightened the family, but were discovered before they had seized much booty.—Chicago Record.

Got What He Wanted.

"Good morning, uncle. How are you today?"
"Ah, nephew, I am well. How are you?"
"First rate. Guess what brought me here?"
"Oh, the old story, I suppose?"
"I'll bet you 5 shillings you can't guess."
"I'll take it. You came here to borrow some money."
"You're lost! Pay me the 5 shillings! I only wanted to inquire how aunt is today!"—London Telegraph.

They Settled It.

"Sir," began young Timkins as he entered the presence of the dear girl's father, "I want to marry your daughter."
"Oh, don't come to me with your troubles!" interrupted the old gentleman. "She told me some time ago that she intended to marry you, so you'll have to settle it between yourselves."
—Chicago News.

The sword blades forged at Toledo by the Saracens could be coiled up like a clock spring and would resume perfect straightness as soon as released.

Got Even For the Star.

"The people here are not very kind to me," said a young physician of the Whitmarsh valley, whose shingle has been out for several weeks.

"Not very kind! Is that so?" asked the friend to whom he complained.
"That's so; but I'll get even with them," replied the physician. I got even with one yesterday. He's the leading man of the town, and when he called on me I was glad and gave him a grand reception. But what do you think he said? 'Any port in a storm, doctor,' says he. 'I'm in a hurry, and I guess you'll have to do.' 'What's the matter?' said I, trying not to appear hurt. 'Oh, disordered stomach,' he answered, 'bad headache, cramps and all that.' Then what do you think I did? I gave him a dose of a certain drug that in an hour laid him on his back, roaring with pain. His wife came for me, hot footed, and I hurried to the house and sat beside the bed and gloated over his agony. When I felt that I had had a full revenge, I cased him off. Wasn't that a clever way to get even? It was a hundred times better than a punch in the nose. If the fellow ever insults me again, I'll half kill him."—Philadelphia Record.

A Curious Plant.

"A curious plant," said an eminent botanist to the writer a day or two ago, "is the wild tamarind or juba plant of the riverside and waste places of tropical America, and very strange are its effects upon the nonruminant animals that feed upon its young shoots, leaves, pods and seeds. It causes horses to lose the hair from their manes and tails, has a similar effect upon mules and donkeys and reduces pigs to complete nakedness. Horses are said to recover when fed exclusively on corn and grass, but the new hair is of different color and texture from the old, so that the animal is never quite the same as it was."
"One animal of which I personally knew, after feeding on the plant, lost its hoofs and had to be kept in slings until they grew and hardened again. Ruminant animals are not thus affected, and the growth of the plant is actually encouraged in the Bahamas as a fodder plant for cattle, sheep and goats. The difference is probably due to changes effected upon it in the chewing of the cud."—Washington Star.

A Just Rebuke.

A young and newly married couple were entertaining their friends, and among the guests was one whose continued rudeness made him extremely objectionable to the rest of the company. His conduct, although most unbearable, was put up with for some time, until at supper he held up on his fork a piece of meat which had been served to him, and in a vein of intended humor he looked round and remarked:

"Is this pig?"
This immediately drew forth the remark from a quiet looking individual sitting at the other end of the table:
"Which end of the fork do you refer to?"—Spare Moments.

Wave Clouds.

The atmospheric ocean surrounding the earth is frequently disturbed by gigantic waves, which are invisible except when they carry parts of the air, charged with moisture, up into a colder atmospheric stratum, where sudden condensation occurs. In this manner long, parallel lines of clouds sometimes make their appearance at a great height, marking the crests of a ripple of air waves running miles above our heads.

Extent of His Superstition.

"Are you superstitious?"
"To a certain extent."
"What do you mean by that?"
"Well, I should hesitate to pass under a ladder if there was a man with a pot of paint at the top of it."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Since time is not a person we can overtake when he is gone let us honor him with mirth and cheerfulness of heart while he is passing.—Goothe.

WIND LYRICS.

East wind—
Through gates of pearl, with sapphires set,
I steal at dawn to fly, while yet
The clouds with silver dew are wet,
On wings that brush the morning star
Of song afar.

North wind—
From fields of frozen stars I blow,
I bear the fragile flowers of snow
That fall upon the earth below,
With pure celestial lips to bless
In soft caress.

South wind—
On wings of perfume, born of spring,
Sweet memories of the south I bring;
From birds and blossoms pink that cling
To heav'n their gladness in an ecstasy
Of melody.

West wind—
Back through the gates of gold and rose,
Where late the star of evening glows,
I slip, before the evening's close,
On pinions woven of a sigh,
Into the night I seem to die.
But, hush! The night will soon pass by,
Before the lark, when morning breaks,
The east wind wakes.

FIRST AMERICAN PATENT.

Granted at Boston in 1648 and Called a Monopoly.

To the general court of Massachusetts belongs the honor of granting the first American patent. This was in 1648 and was then designated as a monopoly. It was confined to the region controlled by Massachusetts, and the one issue apparently included all the invention of the inventor connected with engines that depended upon water for their motive power. The limit of the monopoly was 14 years, and the court not only retained power to forbid exportation, but to prevent exorbitant charges upon the public for their use.

The patent was issued in this form:

"JENKES MONOPOLY."

"At a general Court at Boston the 6th of the 8th Mo 1648. The court considering ye necessity of raising such manufactures of engines of mills to go by water for speedy dispatch of much worke with few hands, and being sufficiently informed of ye ability of ye petitioner to performe such worke grant his petition (yet no Othr per sen shall set up or use any such new invention, or trade for 14 yeares without ye license of him the said Joseph Jenkes) so far as concerns any such new invention, & so it shall be alwayes in ye power of this corte to restrain ye exportation of such manufactures & ye prizes of them to moderation if occasion so require."

This inventor, Joseph Jenkes, or Jenks, as it would now be spelled, came from Hammersmith, England, settled in Lynn in 1643 and died in 1682-83, aged 81. He was a blacksmith and machinist, made the dies for the coining of the "Pine Tree" money and built the first fire engine in this country, altogether a man of great inventive genius and the ancestor of a large number of descendants. One of his sons removed to Rhode Island, where he built several mills.—Boston Transcript.

An Absentminded Bridegroom.

Robert Dewar, brother of Lord William Dewar, the British scientist who was the first experimenter to liquefy air, is a remarkably absentminded man. It is said that on one occasion he left his home early one morning and repaired to the house of a friend, in which there was a fine library to which he had access. That afternoon his relatives and friends searched the neighborhood in vain for him. At length he was run down in this library. By his side was a new suit of clothes. "It's a nice man you are," ironically said the spokesman.
"What's the matter now?" returned Robert irritably.
"Your bride and the preacher are waiting for you this two hours. Don't you know this is your wedding day, man?"
"I declare," said the groom, "I'd forgotten all about it! Wait till I dress, and I'll go along with you."—Saturday Evening Post.

THE "JOURNAL" ENLIGHTENED.

The JOURNAL has been trying to ascertain something about the President's policy and hitherto has failed to learn anything about it and for that reason we have concluded that there is no such a thing as a President's policy. The very best thing that President McKinley could do would be to get a dozen or two of fool killers and put them to work on fool Republicans. The Republican party, or at least the larger part of it, appears to be insane on a government policy, represented as a policy of the President which leads to a conclusion that there is not only a tendency but a desire to today to roil and all things pertaining to it.

These royalists or todies have constructed a system for the administration and have tendered it to the President which system he has refused by his silence to accept for the sufficient reason that the system would place him and his administration in opposition to the principles upon which our government rests.

The president is all right respecting a policy of his own in matters of government because he has no such policy. If intelligent men who are identified with the Republican party would take the President's policy matter up and squash the fools it would be better for the party and the country.

The JOURNAL has discussed the matter of President's policy upon the theory that Republicans understood the workings of their party when they were giving to the country what seemed to be authoritative statements of its inside doings and when discussing the matters directed attention to the silence of the President upon a President's policy.

It is very much out of line of party policy for an opposition paper to come to the rescue of an administration against the foolishness of its party but the best interests of the country demand an exposition of the error that has arisen either from willfulness or ignorance, the latter we believe represents the truth, and while ignorance is the cause of misrepresentation it is also a cause to be feared.

The silence of the Republican party upon the policy question should be received as proof that it favors an individual policy by the President and the reason that its silence should be taken as proof is the additional fact of its readiness to put forward the proposition, which has its object, and that is by putting forward the proposition the political pulse of the party is ascertained upon the question and in due time when the party is educated up to the standard required, an attempt will be made to revolutionize and re-royalize our system.

While upon the facts as they are we have said the President has no individual policy; yet we are fully persuaded that the party will be and is committed, through the money power that runs it, to such a policy, and in due time, should the party retain power, it will become a policy and the will of the President will largely be the rule of government. Ignorance of the real principles upon which our system is founded is largely in the interest of the money power, as it favors, because of party allegiance, its purpose to Russinize and royalize the country.

There is not a more deceptive fraud in the business that is being carried forward by the money power to control the United States than its claim that progress is its purpose. The bait is a never failing catch upon a Republican, and the cunning of the money power has learned that any of its schemes labeled progress will pass muster without question.

The trouble with Republicans in the progress fraud is that they do not examine the contents of the packages that are marked progress, and because of the number of things that are designated under the general head, progress, many of them have concluded that the progress of the earth has been given to the party.

Should the money power purpose to enslave the earth and all there is on it, the Republican party would support the work and call it progress, if it was so ticketed. It seems that it does not occur to the party that it would be well to examine and, if possible, ascertain the destination of money power packages marked progress.

The only explanation that can be given of the party's blindness is that the money power has hypnotized it, because it is an ascertained fact that there are many well meaning men who belong to the party, and who are intelligent upon all matters except money power politics.

Our neighbor, the Gazette, means well, but it made a political mistake when it began defending the President's policy fraud, which was given out by the money power for the purpose of learning how many suckers would bite at the bait. We conclude from an article in the Gazette on the 22d instant, criticizing the JOURNAL, that it concluded the fraud was marked progress, and it took it in as a sweet morsel not to be despised.

THE DEMOCRACY ORGANIZING.

John H. Dennis, Secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee, has received a letter from P. C. Webster of Ely stating that the members of the State committee of White Pine lately called a meeting at which a full Democratic county central committee was elected. For the first time in eight years White Pine has a local Democratic organization.

There are a few other counties which have no county committees but the secretary of the State committee has written to the local members urging them to take the matter in hand and the responses have been so favorable that the probability is the party will be thoroughly organized in every county long before the commencement of next year's campaign.

This is as it should be. The indications are that the silver and anti-Republican contest in Nevada next year will be made under the auspices and banner of the great silver party of the nation of which William Jennings Bryan is the recognized leader.

Nearly all of the intelligent and sincere silver men in the State, admit that this is the only logical course and if the Democratic State central committee, at its meeting on the 5th proximo, pursues the wise and liberal course, which we believe it will, there will be no valid reason why every person opposed to the policy and acts of the McKinley administration should not join hands and present a solid front in opposition thereto. In the meantime, let the work of organization be vigorously prosecuted.

A Political Trick.

"There is a good deal of pure moonshine," said a local warhorse now out of harness, "in the faculty of remembering names and faces which is attributed to most successful politicians. In nine cases out of ten they have no abnormal powers of that kind, and their apparent feats of memory are very easily explained. Take, for example, the case of a political personage at a public reception. He is sure to be surrounded by a group of local leaders who know everybody in town. Presently a valuable constituent approaches. 'Colonel,' whispers one of the henchmen, 'here comes Mr. Blank. He's an active party worker and a great admirer of yours. He met you here last fall.'"

"The personage catches on promptly. 'What does Blank do?' he whispers back."

"He's a produce merchant," replies the henchman. By that time the valuable constituent gets in range."

"How are you, my dear Mr. Blank?" exclaims the notable cordially. "I'm delighted to see you again. And how is the produce business coming?"

"Poor Blank has spasms of joy. That the famous man should remember him so accurately makes him as proud as a peacock, and 20 spectators proceed to tell the story in proof of the colonel's miraculous mental gifts. Thus reputations are made."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Man and His Tailor.

A man can be measured to the best advantage, tailors say, away from a glass. Standing before a mirror he is almost certain to throw out his chest, if he does not habitually carry it so, and take an attitude that he would like to have rather than the one he commonly holds, whereas the tailor wants him, as the portrait painter wants his subject, in his natural pose and manner. With the man in that attitude the tailor can bring his art to bear, if that is required, in the overcoming of any physical defect and produce clothes that will give the best attainable effect upon the figure as they will be actually worn.—New York Sun.

His Remedy.

The other day a little stenographer in a down town office begged some workmen who were putting up a new telephone not to place it so high on the wall as they were doing.

"You see," she said, "I have to use it as much as any one, and I am so short that I can hardly reach it."

"Oh, well, miss," said the humorist in charge of the work, "you can raise your voice, can't you?"—Boston Transcript.

Successful Entertainment.

The entertainment at the Island school house for the purpose of raising funds for painting the school house was a great success financially and otherwise. This was largely due to the efficient rustling of J. Bates.

Undeveloped Resources.

At no distant day Sierra valley will become one of the richest farming sections in the State of California. The soil of the valley is rich alluvium and from ten to a hundred feet deep.

Evidently the valley was once a great lake on the bottom of which was the rich, black mud carried down from the disintegrating hills. At a later period the Feather river forced an exit through the hills and the inland sea became a broad and fertile plain.

Sierra valley is well watered by a dozen mountain streams, but agriculture could be carried on to a large extent without this aid. Irrigation is not a necessity here. However, in dry seasons a utilization of these streams insures crops that without this aid would be short.

Water storage is now a much talked of theme and will probably be tried in a few years with results that cannot be other than successful.

W. E. Blair of Stephenson's store is in Reno on a business trip.

Two hundred and fifty tons of concentrates from the Little Jamison mine have been shipped over the S. V. R. R. the past season.

THE WILY BADGER.

How He Rid Himself of a Plague of Vermin.

Paul W. Henrich, the real estate dealer, is also a student of entomology, natural history and animals in general. He lived down in Nebraska at one time, where the badgers have taken the place of the buffalo. One night Mr. Henrich was explaining the peculiarities of the animal and stated by way of introduction that a genuine Nebraska badger was sharper than a politician.

"They have several bright ways of doing things," he began. "Perhaps I need tell of but one to make their intelligence plain. Now, if a badger has vermin, do you know how he goes about it to rid himself of them?"

"Scratches 'em off," said the proprietor.

"No, sir; Mr. Badger isn't fool enough for that. He just goes to some stream; then he stands on the bank and reaches around with his mouth and pulls a little tuft of hair out of his tail. Now listen closely. With that bunch of hair in his mouth he turns around and backs slowly down into the river. The vermin naturally crawl to keep out of the water and begin to wend their way toward his neck, and as he dips himself down deeper into the water they hasten to his nose and then out on to the bunch of hair which he holds in his mouth. When Mr. Badger finds that they are all out on that little tuft, he opens his mouth and lets the current drift it down stream. Then he crawls out on land again, shakes himself and laughs, while he listens to the vermin floating away, singing 'A Fare You the Ocean Wave.'"

Last fall I strained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BABCOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by W. Pinniger.

CARSON CITY, November 23.—To JOURNAL, Reno:
FRIDAY — Fair; Warmer.

The other day there appeared in the Virginia Report an article which we reprinted, with some caustic comments.
Mr. Considine, who steers the course of the Report, writes that he was out of town when the article commented upon appeared in his paper.
Despite the fact that he calls the JOURNAL man a "sausage-maker," we freely pardon him for what he didn't do. Here is the letter:
"EDITOR JOURNAL: I see by your issue of to-day that objection has been made to an article in the Report of Saturday about the treatment of the Comstock militia. The article appeared during my absence in Carson, and was totally unauthorized. I regret the occurrence exceedingly, as I have too much regard for the people of Reno and too many friends in that town to wantonly insult them without any provocation whatever. I do not blame your local man for rushing so promptly to the defense of the home town, whatever may be my private sentiments as to the manner of doing it. Why he withheld the complimentary notice given the reception committee, the ladies of the Red Cross and Captain Stoddard, in last night's Report, is one of those things that he is better able to explain than anyone else. Yours truly,
"JOHN L. CONSIDINE."

The JOURNAL has just as good an excuse for not publishing the nice notice Mr. Considine made the following day as the writer of the above letter had for allowing his objectionable article to get into print—the JOURNAL localizer was also out of town.

Breach of Promise.

The corporal's guard that attended the performance last night cheered as loud and long as a victorious regiment. There was good reason for this enthusiasm.
The play, "A Breach of Promise," was the hit of the season. It is a typical farce-comedy, bright and witty. It doesn't contain much of a plot, but depends upon incidents that cluster around nothing for its merited popularity.
The specialties were excellent and unique. There was music, dancing and prank playing. Some of the numbers were enlivened time and again.
Lessee Piper has several similar attractions on his book and we are confident that the excellence of last night's performance will ensure good houses for the balance of the season.

Announcement.

I have just received a complete line of working and dress shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell at bedrock prices. I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.
I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is riveted, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

Nearing Completion.

Reno will soon be enjoying the advantages of an improved electric light service. The plant being put in by the Reno Water, Land & Light Company is almost ready to be started.
The pipe line, through which the water for power will be carried, is in place, the building near completed and all that now remains is to put the machinery in position, which will take about five weeks.

Married in Reno.

William Staples and Mrs. Mary House, both of Eureka, California, were married in the parlors of the Riverside Hotel Friday morning, Rev. W. M. McCart officiating. Both bride and groom are well and favorably known in Eureka. They departed for San Francisco, where the honeymoon will be spent, after which they will return to their future home in Eureka.

FISHWAYS ON ALL TRUCKEE RIVER DAMS

Trout Can Now Ascend the Stream Without Let or Hinderance.

EDITOR JOURNAL: Never before have the numerous dams on the Truckee river been so well equipped with fishways.
District Attorney Williams has devoted much time and attention toward bringing this work to a successful completion, and now that we have good ladders constructed on all dams it is to be expected that other officers charged with the protection of fish will discharge their duty.
The State of Nevada makes no appropriation for the maintenance of hatcheries, and we are very fortunate in being so situated that we can derive a great benefit from the work of another State. And from this, doubtless, we have come to the conclusion that it is not necessary to make any appropriation.
But it is absolutely necessary that the parent fish be permitted to run up the stream, so that the California Fish Commission may take spawn from the fish ("rainbow"), which they have the honor of introducing into our waters at great expense.
They will then repair the effects of past and present improvidences and increase our fish supply to meet the requirements of our people, without any expense whatever to this State.

Verdi, Nev., Nov. 20.

Death of Fitzgerald.

John Fitzgerald, who died in the county hospital Wednesday, was the source of litigation which has been going on for some time in which the county of Washoe figured as plaintiff and the county of Eureka was defendant.
The suit was brought to recover pay for maintaining him, it being alleged that Fitzgerald was sent by Eureka county officials to this county to avoid providing for him. The case was lost in the district court, but it is said an appeal will be taken by Washoe county to the Supreme Court.
Fitzgerald was a native of Ireland, and was aged about fifty years.

Would Not Suffer so Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILSON, Liverman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by W. Pinniger.
